JOINT DISTRIBUTION

The big-budget series based on Frank Schätzing's bestseller and one of the most relevant topics of our time. Created by executive producer Frank Doelger (GAME OF THRONES), Oscar-nominated producer Marc Huffam (THE MARTIAN, SAVING PRIVATE RYAN) and Ute Leonhardt (KILLING EVE).

Around the world, strange happenings, borne out of the oceans: Whales destroy boats, deep sea crabs attack beaches, mussels block container ships. An unknown ice worm destabilizes continental slopes and triggers tsunamis. A deadly pathogen spreads into the drinking water. Across the globe, lives are increasingly imperilled, the situation worsening by the day – and yet, nobody can draw a connection between the seemingly random attacks. Except for a group of scientists who come together through their shared sense that something bigger is at play: an intelligent life force, dwelling in the deep – capable of manipulating the ocean, and everything that resides in it. A being which has borne witness to our destruction of the seas and has decided to drive us to extinction. But hardly anyone believes their findings. And so, the group are forced to undertake a life-threatening mission, tracking the intelligent life force within the Arctic Ocean. It is a mission they know may claim their lives...

The poster is a vertical composition of three distinct scenes. The left side shows a large, crowded nightclub with a diamond-shaped sign containing the word 'BABYLON' in a stylized font. The middle section is a close-up of Brad Pitt's face, looking directly at the viewer. The right side is a vertical strip with a red background, showing a soldier in a uniform shouting with his mouth open. To the right of this strip is a close-up of a woman wearing a hat and a blue jacket, looking off to the side. The background of the right side shows a dimly lit interior with a spotlight.

Season 4 of the multi-awarded international hit series set in Berlin, a hotbed of crime and politics, sex and drugs, emancipation and extremism.

Berlin, 1930. The Golden Twenties have culminated in the global stock market crash. At the dawn of the new decade and the looming Great Depression, times have undeniably changed. Ever less can afford the dance on the edge of the volcano. Only some have profited from the crash, like industrialist Alfred Nyssen, who invests his profits and has ambitions that aim for nothing less than the whole world and beyond. Many have used the chaos in the city to their advantage, like the American mobster Abe Goldstein, who's shamelessly flaunting his riches while looking for a lost heirloom. Others have drastically fallen down the social ladder into homelessness and despair, like Toni, who roams the streets of Berlin with a group of young peers, fighting for survival – a fact that makes her sister Charlotte worry and even risk her job. All the while, Gereon's investigations lead him into the boxing milieu – and politically, uncomfortably close to Hitler's SA. Yet some are still trying to restore order. It remains questionable to what avail, as the Nazis' march to power is in full swing...

As Sisi and Franz become parents at last, politics are not the only thing that put their love to the test, when Sisi escapes the golden cage to Hungary.

An heir to the throne at last! But what should be a joyous moment for Sisi and Franz is soon overshadowed by renewed power struggles in Europe: Bismarck threatens to drive Austria into a new war. Sisi tries with all her might to be there for her husband and her people. And although she loves Franz and demonstrates her diplomatic talent over and over, Sisi's life remains that of a bird in a golden cage. Yet, when she has to travel to Hungary on a political mission, she manages to rediscover the light-heartedness of her childhood for the first time in many years. The untamed, endless expanses of the Hungarian puszta, the hard, simple life of the people, and a man with whom one can steal horses. While Franz discovers his sensitive side at the Viennese court, Sisi still successfully resists the growing attraction to Count Andrassy. But when Sisi ends up in captivity with Andrassy, of all people, she finally must ask herself how long she can remain steadfast...

HUDSON & REX

The St. John's Major Crimes Unit has a team that is well-rounded and equally well established to deal with kidnappings, homicides, and hostage situations – but what really sets them apart is Detective Hudson's partner and former K-9 dog Rex.

Detective Charlie Hudson has a team he can count on, for the St. John's major crimes unit has all it takes! Always on Charlie's side: former K-9 German Shepherd Rex, who has saved Charlie's life in more than one way. He's the heart of the unit that is aided by Dr. Sarah Truong, the young and attractive Head of Forensics – who might become more than just a colleague to Charlie. Headed by the hard-boiled Superintendent Joe Donovan, who never cracks under pressure, and completed by Jesse, the tech analyst, who's an absolute computer genius, it is Rex, who keeps the team's spirits high in face of St. John's seedy elements they have to hunt down every day. It's not only Charlie's tireless dedication that makes this unit special – Rex's keen, super-human senses, stealth, and agility are often what helps them to wipe out the crime that washes up on St. John's shore. From kidnapping, homicide and hostage situations, to fraud and corruption in high places, Charlie, Rex and their team are a force to be reckoned with.

The brilliant but idiosyncratic Professor is back! Season 2 of the multi-awarded high-end primetime crime series starring Ben Miller, produced for ITV and PBS.

Every aspect of Professor Jasper Tempest's life is rigidly structured. Impeccably dressed and meticulously punctual, he lectures at the Cambridge Institute of Criminology. Thanks to a strictly regimented routine, his OCD and germaphobia are under control. But his buttoned-down world is slowly undone as one of his former students, Detective Sergeant Lisa Donckers, persuades him to assist in an investigation. Professor T's brilliant mind proves invaluable, but cracks in his carefully constructed, emotionless shell begin to appear. Working with the fiery, occasionally chaotic Lisa drags him out of his comfort zone and forces him to confront his suppressed feelings for an old flame, Detective Chief Inspector Christina Brand. And when he moves back into his dusty and derelict family home – an uncharacteristically irrational decision – he finds it difficult to escape the influence of his imperious mother, Adelaide: They share a harrowing family secret that has cast a long shadow over both their lives...

A reverse whodunnit from the makers of HIERRO, 2021's most watched show on Movistar Plus+.

When high school teacher Tomás finds the bloodied, dying mayoress of his hometown high up on his local cliffs, he not only becomes obsessed with the case but turns into its first suspect. Though solving the case is local cop Maite's job, Tomás doesn't care if his own private investigation gets in her way. Solving the case might just give Tomás' life the purpose he has been silently dreaming of for so long. Though clashing more than once, the two of them come close as can be to finding the murderer: Norma, Tomás' very own physiotherapist. She killed the mayoress in a fit of rage after finding out one of her many dark secrets – one that lies many years behind but one that has deeply affected her and her family. A twist of fate has it, however, that Norma remains undiscovered; her former fear and powerlessness turn to empowerment and confidence. Then a second murder stirs up the waters. Now an unlikely team, Maite and Tomás resume the hunt for a murderer who is closer than they imagine.

FROM THE CREATORS OF HIERRO

The background of the poster is a scenic view of a rugged coastline with cliffs and a lighthouse on a hill, overlooking a blue sea under a cloudy sky. The title 'PRISON ISLAND' is rendered in large, bold, white letters. Each letter of the title is filled with a different scene or character from the movie, showing various characters in dramatic, often tense, situations.

PRISON ISLAND

Created and co-written by best-selling author Michel Bussi.

Armed activists take the population of a small island hostage. Now, these ordinary people thrown into an extraordinary situation have to become heroes – or not...

A peaceful island turns into a prison, when a group of armed activists take the whole population of the quaint, isolated place off the coast of Brittany hostage one morning. They are highly organized – yet their motives remain a secret. Who are they? What do they want? Who can stop them? There's only one thing Alpha, their leader, hasn't taken into account: Five passengers of the shuttle that links the island to the mainland manage to escape and hide. As the islanders face this extraordinary, deadly situation, secrets surface, sources of conflict. But who among them will become a hero, a coward, or a traitor? Who is the stranger who returned after ten years of absence? Will Chris, Dorian, Kelly, Mado, Alex, and the others succeed in thwarting Operation Ocean Storm? Will Candice find the love of her life? And are the goals of the activists really as bad as their actions make it seem?

SAVING THE FUCKING PLANET

Daniel and Elin are two young, star-crossed lovers on the opposite side of an issue: the climate crisis. But will their love prevail despite their differences?

Daniel has hit a rough patch. Just expelled from university, he's now back home with his sick mom. Without a job, Daniel likes to spend his time trolling environmentalists on the internet. To him, they are utterly naïve: Here and now is what matters. When he meets law student Elin on a night out, it quickly turns into much more. Who is this awesome girl? They don't know it yet, but they are on the opposite side of the same issue: While Elin is an avid climate activist from an indigenous family, whose lives and livelihood are threatened, Daniel is about to get a job when the local copper mine is said to reopen – a bright spot to him. Yet despite this, they are drawn to each other like moths to a flame. While the brewing conflict around the mine causes a rift through the community, Daniel makes a fateful decision, threatening to destroy everything... With all that divides them, can Elin and Daniel ever find each other?

When a teenage boy disappears in the desolate blocks of New Belgrade, his twin sister's search uncovers a supernatural mystery that reaches decades into the past.

New Belgrade. Once a model city in what was communist Yugoslavia. Now, the blocks loom dark, nothing left of the former glory. When 14-year-old Rastko, a model student and promising basketball player, disappears without a trace in these blocks, his shy twin sister Milica is the only one who seems to notice. Neither her parents nor the police are of help. It's up to her to find him. Milica is joined by her best friend Bogdan, an awkward, socially inept boy, and Darko, a small-time drug dealer. And while the media raise a panic over Rastko's disappearance, the police turn in circles and the desperate parents reach for mediums and clairvoyants. Searching for Rastko, the three teenagers draw a connection between the frequent disappearances of children and the urban legends of New Belgrade's underground passages, uncovering a dark mystery. Because the trace leads to Block 27 – which was never built...

PALE MOUNTAINS

When a mysterious serial killer roams the streets of Bolzano, an Italian police inspector with a painful past and an assistant DA of German origin join forces to catch him.

Bolzano, Southern Tyrol. Though part of Italy, many speak German here. It's a city with two faces. On one side, those of German heritage – precise, rigorous, and well off. On the other, Italians – loud and passionate. But both sides are equally shaken when a ruthless serial killer comes back, targeting German-speaking victims. He has been active years ago, when Paolo, an Italian police inspector, lost a leg and his girlfriend trying to catch the “Monster of Bolzano”. For Paolo, it has become a personal obsession. He has to join forces with Eva, a young and ambitious assistant DA of German origin. Her father used to be the DA on the same case – now she must prove herself. Eva also has an obsession, one that has nothing to do with the case: defending a young artist called Mathilde. But what is it with the young woman, that has Eva risking everything for her? Only one thing seems for sure: The monster will strike again...

A story of forbidden love set in Lviv at the dawn of the 19th century. While young Anna dreams of true love, she finds it in a place where no one wants her to when she meets the older Count Adam.

Lviv, at the dawn of the nineteenth century. Young Anna is living a simple life, helping her uncle in the bakery, while her brother is in the seminary. Yet, Anna dreams of something much grander: true, mutual love. Her family has a different idea for her. She is supposed to marry the wealthy tradesman Marykan – and while he is in love with her, she cannot muster the same feelings for him. Then everything changes, when Count Adam Rodzinsky arrives to visit his sick uncle Witold. First, Anna is afraid of the older Adam. But then, she develops feelings for him, especially when they start to cross paths more and more frequently. Turns out, Adam was once married to a distant relative of Anna's, but the relationship ended in tragedy. Anna reminds him of his former beloved. Yet as their love blossoms, it remains forbidden...

CARDAMOM COFFEE

The needs and desires of four very special young women clash with the rules of a society that is giving them a chance – but can both sides keep their promises?

Marga, Nati, Angeles, and Patri, four young women in their twenties and thirties, have finally made it to their first own shared apartment. So far, so normal. Really? The truth is, nothing's "normal" for these very distinguished individuals. Because each of them has a specific mental challenge and the flat share is a social test-run. So, their well-meaning social worker Laia has her hands full balancing out each of the girls' issues with a society that has long determined the rules without them. The resulting conflicts are as hilarious as they are dramatic. But will there be enough time and tolerance to deal with Nati's anger fits, Marga's "uncontrollable" sexuality, and Angeles' gambling addiction? Only Patri seems to be on the right path to blending into a society that keeps throwing rocks in their way – and vice versa, of course. Or should they? For watching these mavericks fight for their individuality evokes the question of whether we ourselves are fighting enough for ours...

When the Minister of Defense is held at a hospital ward, hostage negotiator Daniel finds himself in the middle of a deadly political intrigue when his pregnant girlfriend is among the captives.

If you'd ask his superiors, hostage negotiator Daniel hasn't been on his A-game recently. And they wouldn't be wrong because Daniel is secretly facing some personal demons. But he tries to keep it together, especially for his girlfriend Lena, who will soon give birth to his child. But things turn from bad to worse, when none other than the Minister of Defense is kidnapped by former soldier Kornan – and held at the very same hospital ward, where Lena is visiting her mother. Soon, it seems clear that Kornan's motives are very personal. Facing his unpredictable demands on the one hand and the pressures of the highest political leaders on the other, Daniel tries hard to save the hostages. But time is running out relentlessly, and Daniel must make a quick decision: follow orders from the highest places or help the kidnapper clear his name. One thing is for sure: Kornan is not the only one playing a dangerous game...

The king of sports' first true-crime series, told like a thriller, hosted by UEFA Champions League winner and Real Madrid legend Pedja Mijatović.

Football is the greatest show on Earth. Goals, emotions, suspense – its key elements of dramatic storytelling are what brings joy to so many. But behind this universe hides another: killings (of players and referees), kidnappings, suicides, extortion, fraud... Stories that seem like a movie, but are real and play out in all corners of the world. The “B-side” of football we’re still quite unaware of: a true-life, behind-the-curtain side of football that is even more dramatic than the game itself. Hosted by UEFA Champions League winner and Real Madrid legend Pedja Mijatović, these stories of Diego Maradona, Johan Cruyff, Robert Enke, Jose Antonio Santamaria, Andres Escobar, and many more come to life. Using devices from fictional storytelling, cinematic techniques, and re-enactments, this is not like a documentary, but like a thriller: a roller coaster ride with all the twists, climaxes, and cliffhangers so well-known from the game itself.

The Net

The Net - Prometheus

The Net - Promised Land

The Net - Power Play

THE NET is a new innovative concept: A series cycle consisting of standalone, character-driven series, forming one epic global universe. Set in the world of international football, the most beautiful game in the world. And the corruption surrounding it.

THE NET represents a new model of international drama series. Consisting of three individual series, and more to come, each can be watched standalone, follow their own local stories, genres, and target groups – but they can also be discovered as a whole experience, catering to many audiences at the same time. Each series explores unique aspects of the multi-million dollars business that is international football: from the grounds to the playing field, the boardroom to hotel room, from intimate stories of personal grief and obsessive love to desperate battles for power, control, revenge, and success. Yet they all connect to a single narrative universe and to an unparalleled global passion for the game. Each journey of each protagonist intersects in unexpected ways, with some characters reappearing in other series, revealing hidden motives and new perspectives. It is a thrilling, glamorous, exhilarating, dangerous world where winning isn't about goals or trophies, it's about survival.

Notorious doping hunter Georg is offered to run a new high-performance clinic in the Alps. But soon, he uncovers secrets that make him doubt the intentions of the clinic and not only point towards the future, but also into his own past.

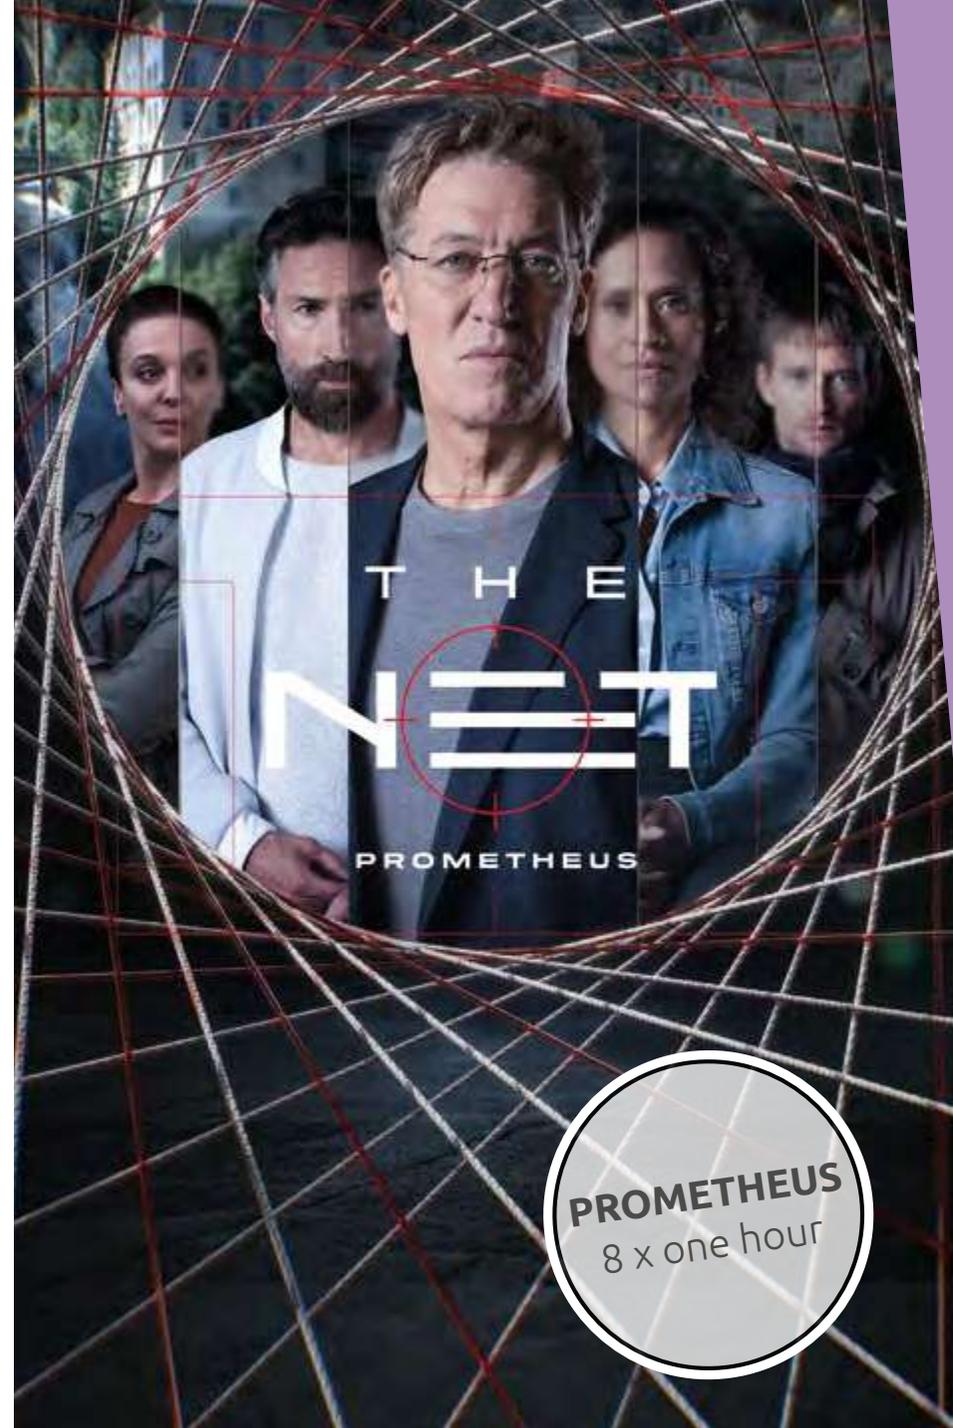

Georg Trotter is a doctor and former doping agent who gave up his career after a tragic car accident badly injuring his wife Diana and killing his beloved son. Known as notorious doping hunter and „bloodhound“, Georg is offered to run a new, hypermodern, high-performance clinic in the Alps. There, the staff is supposed to get injured football players back into shape in record time with high-tech training methods and help young talent to become the best footballers in the world. They promote clean sports without illegal tricks; a job that seems to have been made for Georg. But soon, he has doubts: Is it really about the well-being of the players and that of the sport? The closer Georg looks behind the fancy facade, the more secrets he uncovers, which not only point towards the future, but also into his own past.

When a family-run Florentine football club has to be saved, the owners are forced to sell half of it to Chinese investors. But this desperate move invites the ire of a powerful enemy and throws the family into turmoil.

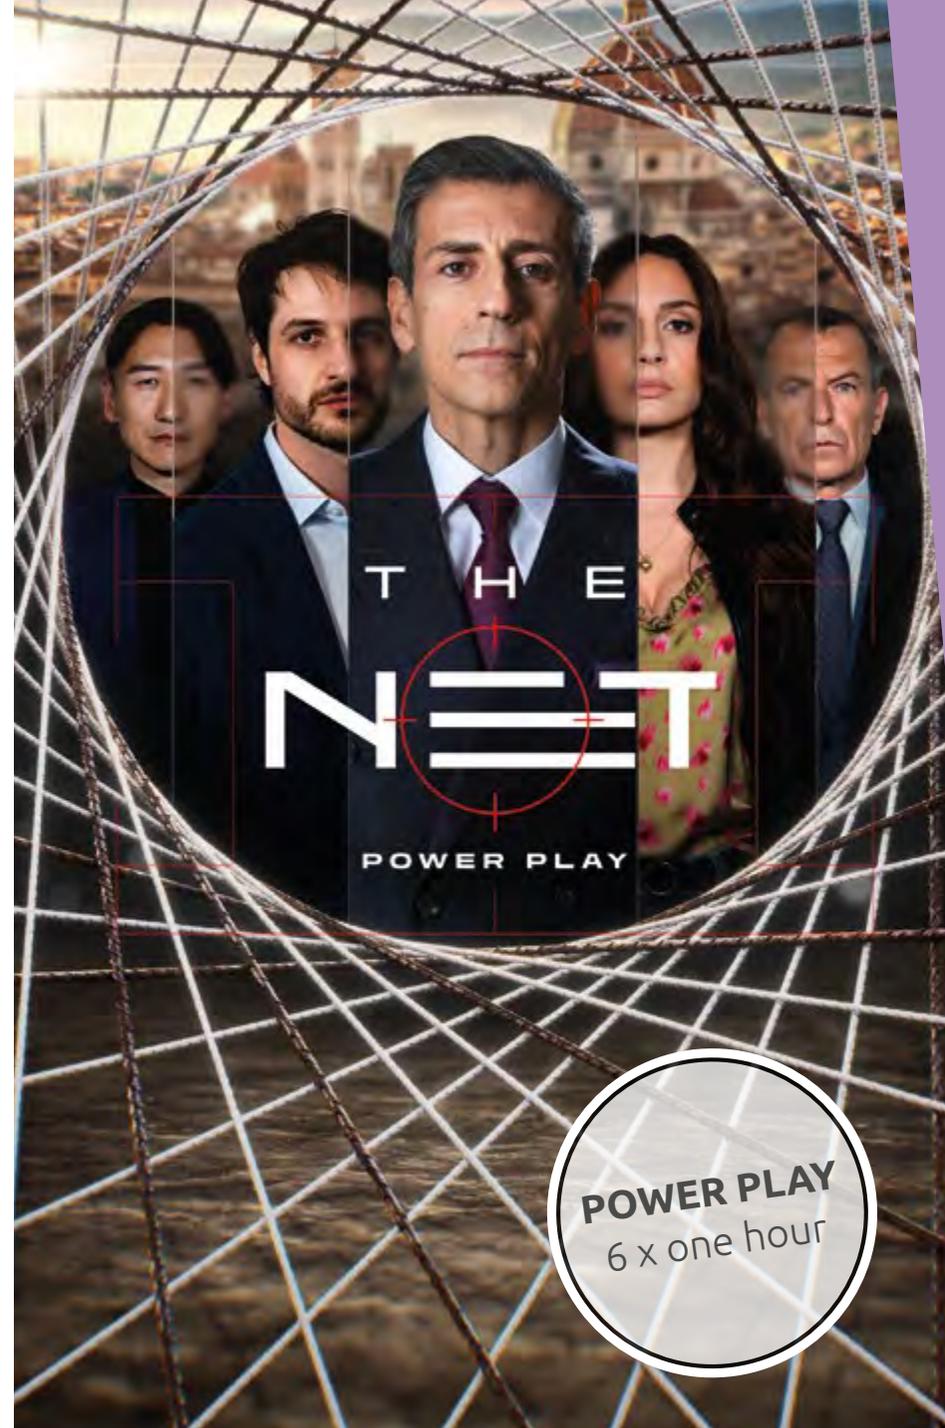

Florence, Italy. Vincenzo's family can look back on a long history of their football club, and while they still dream of success, its future now seems all but dire. Vincenzo holds on to hopes of proving a worthy son to his father, leading his club to glory – but it is a rocky road ahead. He's not the only one with dreams: Beautiful Mariam, a sports reporter who's mostly noticed for her looks, not least by Vincenzo, dreams of a career as a renowned journalist. The club's old-school football coach dreams of getting the team back on track – with outdated methods. Then, there is Maurizio Corridoni, the scheming pope of Italian football and member of the WFA, who dreams of bringing football back to what it used to be: Italian clubs with Italian owners and Italian players. But when Vincenzo is forced to sell 50% of the club to Chinese investors, he is unaware that he is inviting the ire of a powerful enemy... Will all these dreams just serve as a set-up for disappointment?

Nazi Hunter - Journey Into Darkness

Baltic Files

Death Comes to Venice

Three Wheels, One Summer

Burger Wars

Based on true events: After WW2, a British war crime unit torn between a desire for revenge and the call for justice investigates the murder of twenty Jewish children by the Nazis.

Germany, 1945. A British war crime investigation unit is met by an adamant wall of silence upon their arrival. Part of the team is Sigmund Freud's grandson Walter, who escaped the Nazis by fleeing from Vienna to England. Desperately but determined, he and his team try to find out what happened to the Jewish children who were deported from Auschwitz to Hamburg and murdered. Gradually, Walter is hit by the whole extent of the cruel medical experiments on these children. Yet the perpetrators stonewall, admitting only what is already known. Walter and the others are in a moral dilemma: Torn between the desire for revenge and the call for justice, is there just punishment for these unspeakable crimes? A true, historic drama of the hunters and the hunted, the lost children, and their last days, where the compelling testimonies of the survivors who had to bear witness to the horrors compose a haunting call to never forget.

JOURNEY INTO DARKNESS

BALTIC FILES

After Chief Inspector Svenja is transferred to the German-Danish border, a body on the beach and a cold case raise the stakes for her and her gambling-prone new colleague Antoine.

When Chief Inspector Svenja needs to look after her father, a vacancy in her hometown precinct at the German-Danish border comes in handy. But there's little time to get used to her new colleague Antoine's casual tone, let alone his soft spot for gambling. Immediately upon Svenja's arrival, a body is found on the Baltic beach. It is the owner of a boatyard. Did he have to die because of a fight over money with his business partner? Then, telling photos are found on the victim's phone point to a motive that goes back to a family tragedy spanning decades and borders. And all the while, Svenja must prove herself in the shadow of her ex-cop father, who can't get over her brother's suicide. For Svenja and Antoine's first case, the stakes are high...

When art conservator Lukas drowns in the Canale dei Marani in Venice, his widow Anna does not believe it was an accident – and uncovers a conspiracy to steal a Botticelli painting...

When the body of art conservator Lukas is found floating in the Canale dei Marani in Venice, Detective Santo wants to quickly put the case to rest. He does not believe it was foul play. But Anna, Lukas' widow and mother of their 11-year-old son, vehemently disagrees. This was no accident! The last piece Lukas worked on, Botticelli's hauntingly beautiful "Ideal Portrait of a Lady", has vanished – and Lukas made a copy. Did he get involved with art robbers? Together with Rafael, Lukas' best friend, Anna sets out to find the painting. Both are sure: If they find the work of art, they can also find who is responsible for Lukas' death...but they have set their sight on the missing Botticelli as well.

DEATH COMES TO VENICE

Flake is in love with his classmate – but he’s too shy to tell her! Yet, things are soon shaken up when he goes on a road trip with a small-time drug dealer and a bitter wheelchair user...

Flake is shy, an outsider, and named after the keyboard player of the band Rammstein. Thanks, mom and dad! What’s worse, he is unable to declare his love for his classmate Leonie. When he takes the blame for an accident Leonie causes, he ends up doing community service – and then meets Kim, a small-time drug dealer, and Philipp, a bitter wheelchair user. This turns into a tour de force through the countryside, in an aging moped car, at 30 miles per hour. But what they lack in speed they sure make up for in crazy adventures, involving a right-wing prepper, a sexworker, and unknowingly carrying a bunch of cocaine. Will Flake make it to Lake Constance to declare his love for Leonie?

BURGER WARS

Hilde, a former employee in the fast-food restaurant run by her son Tommie, wants to open her own burger joint after her unexpected dismissal and puts the family peace at risk.

Fired! Without notice! By her own son! But chef Hilde doesn't cave in. No, she summons up all her courage to finally venture her own business: a burger restaurant, where every bite tastes like home. In the kitchen, Hilde, once the youngest canteen manager in the GDR, is still the best there is. While the self-proclaimed entrepreneur mobilizes her friends to take full risks, she is not only met with enthusiasm. After all, there is already a burger joint in the economically challenged region, whose boss is none other than Hilde's son Tommie! This surely won't help to mend their relationship... But for Hilde there's no turning back: If not now, when?

Amsterdam Undercover

Masuria Murders

When a German undercover cop's case leads him to Amsterdam, he soon finds himself investigating the highest levels of organized crime, politics, and big business...

Alex has never been big on rules. His work as a German undercover cop taught him: Sometimes, you have to act fast to save lives. While he is good at what he does, he is nevertheless thinking of quitting and settling down. Then, his last case brings him over the border to Amsterdam. After having spent years infiltrating the drug mafia there, his colleague and lover Katja is close to bring them down. But has she switched sides? Alex's "unconventional" methods soon oust him from the German police and together with his Dutch colleague and new friend Bram, he has a talent of sticking his nose into the affairs of the ruthless and powerful...

DEAR THOMAS

Winner of 9 German Film Awards, including Best Film, Best Director and Best Actor.

A declaration of love to East-German author, poet, and film director Thomas Brasch.

The GDR is still young, but Thomas doesn't fit in already. His father wants to help build the new German state above all, but Thomas would rather become a writer. He is a dreamer, obsessive, and a rebel. His very first play is banned, and he is expelled from film school. When the Soviet tanks roll through Prague in 1968, Thomas protests in the streets of Berlin. His father betrays him to the Stasi, sending him to prison. Released on parole, Thomas works hard, loves and suffers, and writes about love, revolt, and death. But with no prospect of being heard, he leaves for the West with the woman he loves. Yet, he does not allow himself to be taken in by the acclaim found there: Thomas is far from being at peace.

The Forger

Based on an incredible true story

Starring Louis Hofman from Netflix cult hit DARK.

21-year-old Cioma Schönhaus won't let anyone take away his zest for life, especially not the Nazis. But he has the misfortune of living as a Jewish person in 1940s Berlin. Since the best hiding spots are in plain sight, Cioma decides to go out into the light to escape deportation. Using the identity of a marine officer he created for himself, he throws himself into the city's nightlife and even finds a fragile hope for love during the darkest moments of the war. Throughout the day, he forges IDs with just a brush, some ink, and a steady hand – and saves the lives of many others. His talent puts him in more and more danger, though, and at some point Cioma's only hope to survive is one last forged ID – with his own name on it.

THE ODD-JOB MEN

A gripping, funny, semi-realistic look at six decisive days in the life of a plumbing squad as they go from client to client, door to door, day to day, in Barcelona.

Moha, Valero and Pep work in a small plumbing and electricity company in the outskirts of Barcelona. Moha, the youngest, is on a one-week trial period with the company. He is shy but does surprisingly well with customers. Moha is set to replace Pep, who is about to retire. However, Valero is not at all comfortable with Pep retiring. He doubts Moha has what it takes, or that customers will accept a Moroccan worker. Maybe six days are not enough to make somebody change, to make him overcome his prejudices. Maybe it's not enough time to make a new friend. But it's possibly enough to discover that we have to live together: one small step for a plumber, but a giant leap for mankind.
