SKAM - The cult series for teens all over the globe

Having started as a low-budget Norwegian web series, SKAM broke all viewership records in its home country as well as in Denmark and Sweden. The show quickly built up an active international fanbase on social media and repeatedly made headlines all over the globe for its popularity surge. Within just three years, the critically acclaimed and multi-awarded web series has also spawned several successful international remakes.

Eva has just started high school. Apparently, she has no-one to rely on, other than her boyfriend Jonas and her best friend Isak. Eva feels lonely but decides to take responsibility for her life. She wants to seek out other venues and people that can offer her new impulses and might even lead to new friendships. Yet she faces questions like who she really is and how far she would be willing to go on account of other people before she compromises her own values. Each season features a different main character, and it is their story and their perspective that the narrative tracks. We follow the girls and boys through heartbreak, partying and all the challenges young people face as they begin high school and start the last chapter before finally entering adulthood.

SKAM is a drama series dismantling taboos and speaking from the heart of its 16 to 20-year-old target audience. The story takes place in real time and is published daily through web-specific storytelling elements, texts, images and grabs, as well as live-action on SKAM websites/apps, generating heavy online traffic in each broadcasting territory. Every week, a summary episode containing all the daily episodes is published online and on linear TV.

"Norwegian TV drama SKAM has been a hit with teens and their parents!"
 The Guardian

"A racy, emotionally intense, true-to-life Norwegian web and television series."
 The New York Times

"A perfect example of what a truly democratic TV should look like in the 21st century."
 The Huffington Post

"It might also be one of the best TV shows about high school ever made."
